A top-down view of a white ceramic plate on a wooden surface. The plate is filled with a meal consisting of three main components: a mound of white rice on the left, a mound of brown rice on the right, and a central portion of ratatouille. The ratatouille is a colorful vegetable medley, including diced zucchini, red bell peppers, yellow squash, and onions, all coated in a light sauce. The text 'RATATOUILLE' and 'France' is printed in the bottom-left corner of the plate.

A close-up photograph of a plate of Souvlaki. The plate is white with a blue polka-dot pattern around the edge. In the center, there are several skewers of grilled meat, likely pork or chicken, which are charred and garnished with fresh green herbs. The skewers are arranged in a row. To the left of the skewers is a portion of white, creamy sauce, possibly tzatziki. To the right and bottom of the skewers are several pieces of flatbread, likely pita, which are also garnished with green herbs. The background is a dark, textured surface, possibly a table or countertop.
